

Established in 1948, the Gate City Bar Association is the oldest African American Bar Association in the State of Georgia. The Gate City Bar Association was organized by ten African American lawyers to provide the educational, social, and community involvement of a professional association for African American lawyers who had been excluded from participating in the segregated bar associations in Atlanta and throughout the State. The mission of the Gate City Bar Association is to create in the community a practical appreciation for the legal profession; to encourage persons of outstanding promise to attend first rate law schools and return to the communities that need their services most; to oppose arbitrary and capricious laws in our state with all the force and fiber of which we are capable as an organization; to uphold and extend the principles of justice in every phase of American life to the end that no one shall be discriminated against because of color, race, religious beliefs, or national origin.

Gate City Bar Association's Justice Robert Benham Law Camp
hosted by the Georgia State University College of Law

The Gate City Bar Association's Justice Robert Benham Law Camp is designed to expose minority high school students in the Atlanta area to the field of law. Eligible students, rising 10th, 11th, and 12th grade students (for the 2010-2011 school year), must be interested in pursuing law as a career and committed to actively participating in the camp's three week program. Students will be exposed to practicing minority lawyers and judges, be given an opportunity to tour various legal institutions like the state and superior courts and the Georgia Supreme Court and Georgia Court of Appeals. Students will be provided instruction on the basics of critical thinking and various areas of law and be given an opportunity to work in a legal environment during the internship phase of the program. The 2010 Law Camp will be held June 7 to June 25, 2010 and hosted by Georgia State University's College of Law located in downtown Atlanta in the Urban Life Building on 140 Decatur Street, Atlanta, Georgia 30303. The candidate must be a responsible, independent, and mature person who can be relied upon to attend the Law Camp's daily activities and perform the homework assigned during the Law Camp learning sessions.
